

Investment Objective and Strategy

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide long-term capital appreciation by primarily investing in listed equities with a China focus. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

The Fund seeks to achieve its objective primarily through exposure to companies established in China or those which, whilst established outside China, derive a significant proportion of their revenue or profits from business related to China. The Fund makes investments into companies that, in the Manager's opinion, have been undervalued by the market. There is no restriction on market capitalizations or industries in relation to the equity securities in which the Fund may invest.

Under normal circumstances, the asset allocation strategy is that at least 70% of the Fund's Net Asset Value will be invested in stocks of companies established in China or those which, whilst established outside China, derive a significant proportion of their revenue or profits from business related to China (including but not limited to investment in depositary receipts such as American Depositary Receipts), and, subject to an overall upper limit on onshore PRC exposure of 20% of the Fund's Net Asset Value, up to 20% of the Fund's Net Asset Value will be invested directly or indirectly in stocks listed in Shanghai (including stocks listed on the Sci-Tech Innovation Board (the "STAR Board")) and/or Shenzhen (including stocks in the ChiNext market and/or stocks listed on the Small and Medium Enterprise Board (the "SME Board")).

Fund Manager's Comment

Global equities faced intense risk-off pressure in March amid the escalating Iran conflict, driving the Hang Seng Index down 6.92%. Energy security became the market's primary concern as daily vessel traffic through the Strait of Hormuz plummeted from over 100 to fewer than 10, dampening overall market beta. In response, we prudently lowered portfolio exposure to preserve capital. However, as the conflict entered negotiations by month-end and triggered a swift market rebound, we actively redeployed our cash reserves.

Domestically, the fourth-quarter earnings season had a muted impact, with heavy spending causing earnings pressure within the e-commerce businesses of several internet giants. Encouragingly, the aggressive subsidies previously used to fuel the quick-commerce segment are visibly declining and shifting toward areas like travel-related businesses. For a sustained de-escalation of broader industry competition, all eyes are now firmly on ByteDance's spending behavior and further regulatory actions. Meanwhile, AI expenditure is emerging as a primary growth catalyst, driven by accelerating token usage following the OpenClaw event in China.

Given the unexpectedly bullish market turn, we optimized our positioning toward high-conviction structural themes. We remain heavily focused on renewable energy, power generation, and AI supply chains. China's manufacturing ecosystem will be critical to this post-war technological transition. Ultimately, we maintain a cautiously positive outlook on the Chinese economy, identifying resilience and ongoing opportunities within the export sector.
